

Job description trainee Serious Gaming De Bilt / Rotterdam

Are you looking for an interesting and challenging internship in the field of Serious Gaming? Are you interested in how a game like City Skylines can contribute to the development of the cities of the future? Are you also good in finding technical solutions? Please contact us!

Henri Veldhuis – Manager Business Development

Elfi de Wit – Head of the department Urban Development

We are looking for a trainee for the department Urban Development. The department Urban Development consists of a dynamic and versatile group of urban and rural planners, designers, project managers and area economists. They work on appealing and challenging urban and rural area transformations. Integrity, feasibility and sustainability are in our DNA.

Of course we want the plans that we draw up, calculate and realise with customers are in line with the people who will be and live in that area in the future. We believe that serious gaming helps to meet the needs of the future target group, helps with the dialogue about ideas and ensures easy discussions of various scenarios for the design of an area. In short: we see opportunities in citizen participation and in calculating spatial developments.

We are looking for:

- You have knowledge of or are able to teach yourself software programs such as Unity, Javascript and FME.
- You have a proactive attitude and know how to make connections easily.

Interested?

We like to receive your application by clicking on the button on this page. For questions about the contact of this position, please contact Henri Veldhuis, Manager Business Development, henri.veldhuis@sweco.nl or Elfi de Wit, Head of department Urban Development, elfi.dewit@sweco.nl. For information about the application process, please contact Mark Wybenga, Recruitment Manager, mark.wybenga@sweco.nl.